Our Côtes de Morogues cuvée is a benchmark of the appellation. Born on the plateau and clay soil hills of the Moroques village, benefiting from various south and south-east exposures, Pinot Noir and Sauvignon Blanc thrive in this ideal environment.

The Menetou-Salon appellation stretches over a narrow strip of hills starting west of Sancerre and going up to the north east of the Bourges city.

The appellation covers 560 hectares of 'Terres Blanches' terroir of south facing hills tucked between the Pays Fort plateau and the Loire river plain.

Menetou Salon enjoys a long lasting history and was mentionned by Jacques Coeur in 1450. The diversity of the Terres Blanches terroir endows a legitimate identity to the Sauvignon Blanc and Pinot Noir.

WINEMAKING & AGEING

Planted on numerous steep hills with varying sun exposures, our vineyard requires a great deal of attention to get its essence. At harvest time, the daily tasting of the berries in each vineyard enables us precisely to choose the ideal picking date. The fermentation of the juices in temperature controlled tanks is followed by the ageing on fine lees (with a weekly batonnage) up to the bottling in the Spring following the harvest.

FOOD PAIRING

Seafood, citronella sea bream or a risotto with large prawns will release the potential of the Côtes de Morogues. Its sophisticated minerality will magnify your most delicate dishes.

TASTING NOTES

Pale hue and elegant nose revealing citrus fruits such as orange and grapefruit. The palate is very fresh and dominated by notes of orange, pomelo, pear and a subtle hint of lychee. An immensely pleasurable wine with a fruity finish.

VINTAGE 2022

The pleasure of tasting is our number one priority in the creation of our wines. These parcels are situated in the east of the appellation in the communes of Parassy, Morogues and Humblingy and are planted in Kimmeridgian marl soils. 2022 was a dry vintage although the Menetou-Salon wine region saw the most rainfall and the grapes ripened without stress. Vinifications also went off without a glitch.
